FAQ Regarding Procedures After a Death

Q: Do I still need to complete procedures at City Hall if I have submitted the notification of death?

A: In many cases, there are various other procedures that need to be completed after submitting the notification of death, and the required procedures differ by case.

Please check the Okuyami Guide and contact the relevant divisions if you have any questions or concerns.

Q: Can I complete pension-related procedures at City Hall? Do I need to go to the pension office?

A: Depending on the type of pension received, you will either be able to complete the procedures at City Hall, or you will be required to complete them at the pension office. Please contact the pension office for more information (see pg. 6).

You may also need to obtain certificates from City Hall (e.g. family register, residence records, etc.).

Q: I need a family register showing the record of death. Can I obtain one right away?

A: It will take a number of days from the date of processing the notification of death before we are able to issue the document. For more information, please contact the public office in the permanent domicile of the person who passed away.

Q: Do I need to return the My Number Card (of the person who passed away) immediately?

A: If you return the My Number Card or Notification Card at the City Hall counter, you will no longer be able to check the Individual Number ("My Number"). You will be asked to present the My Number Card for inheritance and various other procedures, so please keep the card until everything has been completed.

Reservations must be made in advance.

Okuyami Corner Information

At the Okuyami Corner, we will assist you in completing the main procedures at City Hall following the loss of your loved one with as little anxiety and burden as possible.

This service is available to the surviving family members of those who were registered residents of Tokushima City.

When Inherited Real Estate Becomes Vacant

Public Housing Division
(Main Bldg 4F), 088-621-5285

In the event that someone living in their own house has passed away and you have inherited real estate, you will be required to complete procedures at a legal affairs bureau (this will be made mandatory from April 2024).

If you are unable to properly maintain and manage the inherited real estate, various issues may arise, such as the danger of a building collapsing, public health deterioration, or landscape damage, all of which can seriously impact the living environment of local inhabitants. Please consider selling or utilizing vacant homes that you do not have an intended use for. Please contact the Public Housing Division for general inquiries about vacant houses.

Disposing of Items Left Behind as Garbage

Please see the “Household Garbage Collection Schedule” and properly separate and dispose of any garbage.

If you will be disposing of a large amount of garbage at once, you may either request collection through a licensed garbage disposal company (A), or contact the Environmental Policy Division ahead of time and bring it to a garbage disposal facility (B). If you will be disposing of paper, please contact a waste paper collection company (C). If you are disposing of recyclables, you may also use the Tokushima City Eco Station (2-chome, Joto-cho).

Please verify the hours of operation and other information with the relevant garbage disposal facilities or companies. You may not make requests for collection through unauthorized companies, such as businesses that offer to sort the belongings of people who have passed away, scrap collectors, etc.
